As a customer of one of Dow Corning's European Union (EU) entities, you are considered a Downstream User under REACH. As a Downstream User, your purchases from these EU entities will continue to be covered under REACH for supported uses throughout the relevant phase-in period.

Dow Corning and XIAMETER® have pre/registered all the substances for which we have responsibility to do so under REACH, and we have requested from our suppliers that all substances in raw materials are pre/registered.

The result is that regardless of the brand through which our products are sold, Dow Corning and XIAMETER® continue to offer an extensive product range. Our cross-functional team of experts continues to work on the requirements of REACH to ensure compliant supply of any new product offerings.
